INTRODUCTION

Final results of the 1961 Census of Canada are presented in this report to show population totals, classified by sex, for counties and census divisions, as well as for such subdivisions as incorporated cities, towns, villages, organized municipalities, parishes, and townships.

These final totals of the 1961 Census are published in four regional reports as listed on the back cover. (See Reports 1.1-2 to 1.1-5 inclusive.) More detailed population distributions by geographical areas for several provinces appear in Report 1.1-1 (Electoral Districts and subdivisions). For example, population totals in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are given for individual townships within each electoral district (i.e., by township, range and meridian). Similarly, the totals for districts in Northern Quebec and Ontario show distributions for unorganized townships and other parts not listed separately in the aforementioned reports.

County totals are shown in these reports for all provinces except Newfoundland, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, where there are no counties similar in function to those of the other five provinces. In the four western provinces, census divisions were established for the publication of Census statistics at the time of the 1921-31 Censuses, and in Newfoundland, prior to the 1951 Census. In the case of Alberta, the census division boundaries were revised before the 1956 Census, and in Manitoba before the 1961 Census.

In all provinces except Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and British Columbia, the subdivisions of the counties or census divisions consist of townships, municipalities, parishes, etc., depending on the form of municipal organization in the particular province. Because of the extensive unorganized areas in Newfoundland and British Columbia, and the relatively large size of the county and district municipalities in Nova Scotia, population totals in these provinces are shown for "census subdivisions" as well as for the municipally organized localities.

Le présent rapport donne les résultats définitifs du recensement du Canada de 1961 en ce qui concerne la population, répartie selon le sexe, des comtés et divisions de recensement et de certaines subdivisions telles que cités, villes et villages constitués, municipalités, paroisses et cantons ou townships organisés.

Ces chiffres définitifs du recensement de 1961 paraissent dans quatre bulletins régionaux énumérés sur la couverture arrière. (Voir les rapports 1.1-2 à 1.1-5 inclus.) Le rapport 1.1-1 (Districts électoraux et subdivisions) contient des répartitions plus détaillées de la population par région géographique dans certaines provinces. Ainsi, pour le Manitoba, la Saskatchewan et l'Alberta, on donne la population de chaque township des districts électoraux (i.e. par township, rang et méridien). De même, dans le cas des districts du nord du Québec et de l'Ontario, on donne la population des cantons ou townships et autres parties non organisés qui ne figurent pas séparément dans les rapports ci-dessus mentionnés.

Les rapports donnent la population par comté dans les provinces autres que Terre-Neuve, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta et Colombie-Britannique, où il n'y a pas de comté qui remplisse la même fonction que ceux des cinq autres provinces. En vue de la publication des statistiques du recensement, des divisions de recensement ont été créées lors des recensements de 1921 et 1931 dans les quatre provinces de l'Ouest et avant le recensement de 1951 à Terre-Neuve. Les limites des divisions de recensement ont été remaniées avant le recensement de 1956 en Alberta et avant celui de 1961 au Manitoba.

Dans toutes les provinces, sauf à Terre-Neuve, en Nouvelle-Écosse et en Colombie-Britannique, les subdivisions des comtés ou divisions de recensement comprennent les cantons ou townships, les municipalités, les paroisses, etc., suivant la forme d'organisation municipale propre à la province. En raison des vastes étendues non organisées de Terre-Neuve et de la Colombie-Britannique et des proportions relativement grandes des municipalités de comté et de district en Nouvelle-Écosse, la population de ces provinces est répartie suivant les subdivisions de recensement et les localités organisées en municipalités.
